PROFILE

Versatile and motivated Full-Stack Web Developer with expertise in Python and JavaScript, specializing in creating responsive, scalable web applications using frameworks like React, Next.js, and Flask. Skilled in managing databases such as MySQL and MongoDB, with a focus on crafting intuitive user experiences and robust backend systems. Backed by experience in AI-based solutions and innovative web development, I approach each project with creativity and a problem-solving mindset. Currently honing advanced skills in TypeScript, DevOps, and AWS to stay ahead in the ever-evolving tech landscape. Beyond coding, I explore creative pursuits like DaVinci, blending technical proficiency with artistic curiosity.
